

SAFETY POLICY STATEMENT

The policy of Balmoral Tanks Limited is to ensure that proper care is taken to protect the safety and health of its employees, customers, contractors and of any other person who may be affected by its operations.

To this end, the company has established a health and safety management system that includes the preparation and implementation of objectives for continuous improvement. By doing so, Balmoral Tanks Limited aims to eliminate or reduce all foreseeable risks so far as reasonably practicable.

It is also Balmoral Tanks Limited policy to comply with the letter and spirit of UK and relevant overseas legislation as it applies to health, safety and welfare, to provide appropriate facilities and to look after the general wellbeing of all employees to an extent that would reasonably be expected of a good employer.

In particular, the following principles underpin the management of Balmoral Tanks Limited activities:

- Health and Safety will never be compromised.
- There is no issue more important than the health, safety and welfare of our employees, customers, contractors and visitors.
- All risks can be controlled as far as reasonably practical - all accidents and occupational ill-health can be prevented.

The application of this policy will be a prime consideration in the management of Balmoral Tanks business activities, and the efforts of all employees in the minimisation of risks are valued as essential to the success of the business.
